

Argeneau / Rogue Hunter Series Reading Order

So here's the explanation as to why the reading order is different from the published order. When I wrote the proposal for the series it started with Lissianna's story, then Etienne's story, then Lucern's, then Bastien's. However, Dorchester, my publisher for the first three books, could only purchase three books at the time and chose the brothers. It was their choice to take the brothers and not the sister and their choice to publish them out of order. Now the series is at Avon and Lissianna was the first they published. From now on, the stories will be in order.

Here is the reading order:

Note: the reading order is not necessarily the same as the publishing order

A Quick Bite – Lissianna's story - November 2005

Love Bites – Etienne's story - January 2004

Single White Vampire – Lucern's story - September 2003

Tall, Dark & Hungry – Bastien's story - July 2004

A Bite To Remember – Vincent's story - July 2006

Bite Me If You Can – Lucian's story - February 2007

The Accidental Vampire – Victor's story - January 2008

Vampires Are Forever – Thomas's story - February 2008

Vampire, Interrupted – Marguerite's story - March 2008

The Rogue Hunter – Garrett Mortimer's story - October 2008

The Immortal Hunter – Decker Argeneau's story - March 2009

The Renegade Hunter – Nicholas Argeneau's story - October 2009

Born To Bite – Armand Argeneau's story - September 2010

Bitten By Cupid – Tiny McGraw's story - January 2010

Hungry For You – Alex Willan's story - December 2010

The Reluctant Vampire – Harper Stoyan's story - June 2011

Under A Vampire Moon – Christian Notte's story - May 2012

Lady Is A Vamp – Jeanne Louise's story - August 2012

The Bite Before Christmas – Teddy Brunswick's story - November 2011